Solution 1. This algroithem traverse through the array twice to find a match between two numbers. The upperbound of the first loop is n the upperbound the secound iteration is n as well, so the upperbound running time of the algorithem is $O(n^2)$

The correctness is obvious and the complexity analysis is elusive.